4. RETURN TO WORK
An employee is normally expected to give one month's notice of their return to work date should the return date be different than the planned return date.

When the staff member returns to work, it is the responsibility of the department to reinstate the staff member in the same position, or a comparable position at the same level in the same occupational group.

FOOTNOTE
All payments by the University can only commence when the staff member provides proof that she is receiving EI benefits, or that she is disqualified from EI benefits because of an insufficient number of insurable weeks, or that EI benefits have been exhausted, or that she is in the Employment Insurance Commission's waiting period. Staff members should understand that such proof will not be made until after the leave has commenced and payments from EI have started and hence University payments will be retroactive.

NOTE: For a natural mother, parental leave commences when her maternity/pregnancy leave ends. A staff member is normally expected to give one month's notice of the date of return to work, should this be different from the previously agreed date.
