JJESC Bulletin #10

One Additional Orientation Session Scheduled

The Joint Job Evaluation Steering Committee is pleased to announce that an additional orientation session about the new job evaluation system for positions in the MUSA bargaining unit has been added. The date and location of the session is:

Date: Tuesday October 26
Time: 3:30 - 5:00 pm
Location: HSC 1A1

The orientation session is intended for employees in the MUSA bargaining unit and their supervisors and will provide information about the new job evaluation system and the process of collecting accurate, complete job content information that will form the basis for the rating of jobs.

If you were unable to attend one of the sessions that were held throughout May to September, we strongly encourage you to attend this final session. The University considers that the time away from work to attend an orientation session is paid release time.
